

BurnT Interactive Arts Society - Summary of Grants Awarded in 2014

1. Open Art Grants - Total $1000.00 - awarded to support art from our community going to other regional events or burns / Toronto based events not organized by BurnT

Name of Recipient	Project Name	Project Description	Amount
Brad Spacinsky	Aural Borealis Intended destinations OM & Mooseman	Stepping into Aural Borealis will be a mind expanding auditory and sensory experience. Imagine 27 floating archways, extending over 80 feet hovering above you displaying a dazzling array of multicolor LED patterns. The light show produced by the archways are both interactive and audio responsive, meaning you can control the coordinated light patterns of Aural Borealis while it listens to the surrounding auditory environment or stand under the arches and be mesmerized by the colors dancing above your head. Powered by the visual development platform Touch Designer, Aural Borealis has three forms of input; Mashine midi control (to set your own patterns and alter preformed light sequences), 3D Kinect motion sensors to detect dancing, hand motions, or however your soul would like to express itself, and audio input, which will dance to the surrounding music. Aural Borealis enables you to express yourself through LED light and animation like nothing else you have seen.	500
Becky Belton	Bathtub Battleship Intended Destinations: Figment and Lakes of Fire	This is a real life, silly version that I think both small and big kids can get behind and enjoy. Adult or child, be silly, get wet, and let the battle rage on!	95
Seth Hardy	Riskee Ball Intended Destination: Maker Faire	Riskeeball is a celebration of the classic arcade game Skee-ball, with a fiery twist! Riskeeball is really about fun, excitement and recapturing childhood joy Burner style! Players are rewarded for steady throws with giant fiery eruptions. The piece is all about having fun, challenging yourself to play your best and score big fire, and cheering for fellow players to do the same.	200
Franklin Call	String Theory Intended Destination: Figment	This sculpture has many holes with spools of thread below. The participants thread the strings through the holes to create patterns in the 3D structure.	205

Art Grants awarded and paid out (Budget $2000)

Note: several projects cancelled or did not show. These funds were re-allocated.

Chriz North	Button Maker	Give access to a simple and fun art making tool so everyone can participate, create and pin it to them when they're done.	250
Jo Lopez	Pimpin' Potties	Aromatherapy, Lighting and Décor within Porta-potties will let MooseMan attendees know that The LooTenants have kept all your Port-o-potty insecurities in mind and we are here to erase that fear.	250
Carrie Smith	Riskee Ball (3 Machines)	Riskeeball is a celebration of the classic arcade game Skee-ball, with a fiery twist! Riskeeball is really about fun, excitement and recapturing childhood joy Burner style! Players are rewarded for steady throws with giant fiery eruptions. The piece is all about having fun, challenging yourself to play your best and score big fire, and cheering for fellow players to do the same.	550

Chris North and Jo Lopez	Appreciation Station	The station itself is very simple — a few signs give instructions to: 1) Show your appreciation for someone by creating an artistic postcard or letter for them expressing it 2) Put your art into an envelope 3) Deliver it yourself or leave it in the "Appreciation Letters Outbox". If there is a larger office set-up, we'll keep it with the desk set-up. If not, we'll have something humbler, like a rubbermaid to store and transport it.	65
Chris North	Dr. Zee's	The piece is basically mobile performance art. I walk around dressed in an old-timey costume with a large doctor's bag, offering to help cure people's ailments and woes like a 19th century snake oil's salesman.	70
Lee/Derek	Sign at Gnome Corner	This sign post is being made specifically for the three corner crossroad and will direct to the location of each camp.	75
Matt/Brad	Ginger Games	Adult size outdoor interactive games	125
Martin Sneath (rangers)	T-Shirts for Rangers	T-shirts for the Rangers so that they are easy to identify.	130
David Braun	The Touchnsqueal Organ.	Touching objects or people connected to the organ will play notes. It will only have one octave, so only simple music can be played. To demonstrate what can be accomplished if people work together (or just stand around). I have an organ that requires eight people to stand, and be the "keys" or notes, and one person to play them. Nine people in total are required just to play Twinkle Twinkle Little Star.	130
